Readings. All assigned readings are available on electronic reserves at Geisel Library.

Grades. Your course grade will be the average of your grades on [1] your performance on a mid-term examination at the beginning of the fourth class meeting, [2] your participation in the Model Security Council simulation, and [3] your research paper explaining your country's primary foreign policy objectives. The examination and paper will receive equal weight in the calculation of your course grade; your participation may raise your grade but will not lower it.

The mid-term examination is a one-hour objective examination that simply checks whether you have understood the lectures and readings.

Note: By enrolling in this course you agree to submit your research paper for textual similarity review to Turnitin.com for the detection of plagiarism. All submitted papers will be included as source documents in the Turnitin.com reference database solely for the purpose of detecting plagiarism of such papers. Use of the Turnitin.com service is subject to the terms-of-use agreement posted on the Turnitin.com website.

Course Web-site. I have posted a copy of the course syllabus and lecture outlines on the course web-site. I will add to and up-date the outlines as necessary. You can reach this web-site through my homepage:
